

We worry about HIPAA so he doesn't have to.

Not many surgeons are also expert at implementing federal patient privacy guidelines. That's why we created the Safecom PC Guardian Pro with wireless password key. Eliminates the need to type a password any time you log on or off your computer in fast-paced environments. The Guardian works like a car alarm key; just aim at your screen and your PC is locked. You're free to leave your PC area without shutting down, and the moment you return access is instantly restored. And the customizable software allows you to program user access, time stamp logs, and more. So if your staff's not ready for HIPAA, we've got them covered.
